TOWN COUNCIL

The last meeting of Council held on Monday was given over almost entirely to the consideration of the request of the Electric Light Company for a re-adjustment of the rates for power supplied at the pumping station.

It was somewhat difficult for the council to find a solid working basis in the quibbles of technicalities of electrical phraseology, for it seemed almost impossible to estimate with any degree of accuracy the amount of electrical energy used in pumping every day.

In view of the fact, however, that the company had undertaken to supply the town with electrical power immediately following the fire at the plant, is a consequence of which its working expenses had been considerably increased; it was felt that some concession should be made the company by the town.

It was finally decided to submit a request for a flat rate covering the consumption of water in water quantities as this was considered the only safe basis to work on.

The town superintendent reported upon the request of H. W. Ford for permission to use the hall over Roy Smith's garage as a public hall that as at present situated the hall was not suitable on account of the great danger of fire.

Several suggestions were made by Con. Skeritt and others whereby this danger could be eliminated and it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the Public Works committee.

The matter of obtaining permission from the C.P.R. to use the bridge the intake to the canal for the convenience of the farmers in Majorville was discussed together

Full Details of Women's Institute Scholarship

As there seems to be a little misunderstanding prevalent as to the examination which will be held for the Women's Institutes' Scholarship we have been requested to make the following announcement.

The nature of the examination has no relation whatever to ordinary school exams, and it makes no difference whether a candidate is in the 9th or the 10th grade.

On October 4th the special demonstrator will commence teaching the candidates a short course of lessons in Domestic Science. These lessons will be continued every day to Saturday October 9th when the candidates will be examined on the lessons given the previous five days.

All candidates must be over 16 years. There is no entrance fee. All those who enter from outside points will be provided with room and board free of charge by the members of the Bassano Institute.

Any girl over 16 who resides in the Bow Valley Constituency is eligible to compete for this valuable scholarship, whether there is a branch of the Women's Institutes in her town or district or not.

Send in your names to Mrs. H. S. Johnson, Bassano; Mrs. Sims, Cochrane; Mrs. A. L. Fryberger, Gerny; or Mrs. Nelson, Brooks.

with certain road questions. The secretary was instructed to request permission from the company.

A resolution was passed authorizing the council to alter the minimum water rate from $5.00 to $7.50 per quarter.

Council finally adjourned at 11 p.m.

Simmons frowned and shook his head. "I'll not split," he growled. "Well, you needn't. I have little use for you now, but I have even less if you did that. Anyhow, I know who is behind all this, it's Dalton."

"I didn't say it was,"
"No, you didn't; nevertheless, I know."

"You wouldn't handle Al Dalton quite so easily as you did me," whined Simmons. "He's some man, is Dalton."

"That remains to be seen," smiled Dorkin. "I'll just say this much, though: if I catch him up here on my Presterve, I'm going to find out just how much of a man he is. You tell him that for me." He laughed at the baffled expression on the other's face. "Look here, Simmons," he said quietly, "Dalton hasn't got any courage, and you know it. He never takes any chances himself, but gets one of you fellows to take them for him. I've just given you what you deserved, but I'll tell you something. I respect you for the nerve you've shown and I don't want you to get in wrong on Dalton's account. Take my advice and break away from him. By the way, I'll trouble you to explain to me the practice back where you found it. He pointed to the card gleaming up from the moss, then stood away among the trees."

Thereafter the notices remained unmolested. Not that certain of the trappers, with a personal grudge against Dorkin for establishing a kingdom and a law unto himself, did not long usurp the fertile hunting and trapping grounds from which they were barred, but because they had learned thoroughly that Dorkin was quite capable of taking care of a man and his law of keeping his promises.

Some of them, more reasonable than the rest, had even accepted the big woodman's overtures of friendship and came often to visit him in the cabin in the grove. His strong personality, his colossal physical strength, and his marvellous power over the wild things, won their respect, and in their rough way they liked him a great deal.

Dorkin had been in the Northern Forest for five years now, five of the best, beautiful years of life, where life was fullest and grandest and best.

Reminded by the sympathetic fingers of the great Mother, his physical self had become the very embodiment of perfect manhood which had about it the ruggedness of the oak, and the symmetry of the hickory. Nature had, indeed, been kind to him, and he loved her for it. In his heart he said to her throughout each glad day

MOST EVERYONE USES THEM FOR THE STOMACH

They Act Quickly, and Make You Feel Lively as a Kid

A growing curative triumph in medicine is now given to the world, and all who have been suffering from indigestion, flatulency, headache and all ailments of the stomach can be cured by a purely vegetable remedy.

What a delicious food is no longer necessary. They are harsh and violent, and do not cure the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys.

Head sick men and women who severely know what all them, will get a new lease of life, with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Bloating, stomachic diseases, headaches are forgotten, appetite increases, blood is purified and enriched, pains at the base of the spine are cured, the nerves are in good condition to work in increased, and day by day the old-time health and vigor return.

A trial only is necessary to prove beneficial Dr. Hamilton's Pills are for all who are weak, nervous, thin, depressed or in failing health.

of life. "You have saved me and I shall never stray away from you again."

He had never known the fulness of life. He had thought "it" something of a struggle after that not easily attained, a reaching through and above the clouds for a bubble that floated always a little beyond one's reach. Now he knew that life was health and the power to taste and know and feel—particularly to feel.

He wondered sometimes if those men in the city that grinding, pulsating place of crowds and jar, and of those men who direct the channels of learning and business, realized the artificialness of it all.

With him there was no longing to know more than what he saw and knew after his own fashion. Those white stars that hung low above the tree-topped peaks were simply glorious stars, made to blink out of the dusk, grow golden in the deepening shadow, and sing out to the bushy night with a melody stune with the eternal chord upon which hung all the harmony of his world.

It was with these winds, the breeze, the streams, and all the atoms of the air, and all the atoms of the sea, and all the atoms of the land, that he found himself as he found them. He breathed, listened, felt; above all, he lived. He was a primitive man with only life in his veins, a great and beautiful love in his heart for his environment; and every morning, as he stood watching the living stars in the east, his song sang its wild prayer to an infinite Something which he knew was God and—Gods.

Seldom, if ever, did he allow himself to think of the other world in which he had fought and failed and well-nigh gone down. As first he had found it hard to forget; the drag thread of past memories would produlate itself at times and spoil the golden web of graceful dreams. That was because spiritual regeneration is slower than physical; because certain diseases can be cured only in the Great Operating Rooms.

Five years as keeper of the Retreat and he was happy, contented, successful. Five happy years. Dorkin smiled at the thought of how grateful, how happy they had been. He hoped nothing would ever occur to bring the past back before him. He had just about outlived it, almost obliterated it from his mind—all save one little chapter that could not be forgotten.

He could not forget the disgrace, the degradation he had suffered back there in the city, could not forget what an innocent man, had endured for the crime of another. And then there was a face that came up and stood before his eyes whenever this memory forced itself upon him. Oddly he had always associated his disgrace and this man together. He had always thought that Timberley was, in some way, responsible for his passing out.

But today, as he walked through the spiky hardwoods, where that cloud seemed less sombre and something more vaguely indefinite than it had hitherto been. Perhaps it was because of the new spring-time warmth in the air, the sweet-scenting wild flowers and the bird-music that thronged and twittered on every hand.

Perhaps, too, he called to mind the happiness of his wild children who were all about him, his furred and feathered friends, old and young, playing and enjoying in full the straight sunned and balmy breezes.

The silver grey fox and her puppies rolled on the sward together beneath a copse of wild hazelcut. A little beyond them a big raccoon and four little grey balls, with tiny rings about their tails, lay fast asleep in the sunlight.

Down in a small lake he heard a glorious splashing and knew that the old mink, whose den was deep in the bank, had taken her family of kittens out for a morning swim. From a big beech, close beside him, a cock grouse checked his challenge to the departing fox beneath him.

Dorkin stood still, a smile on his face, a deepening wonder in his eyes. "It was all so wonderful to him," each and every day it grew more wonderful. These things had come into his Retreat, wild, frantic, laughing things. What a divine day! He drew in a long breath. In it he tasted the soul of budding tree and shooting plant. It was like the sweetest nectar to him, and he laughed softly, for sheer joy of it all, as he passed on up the path to his cabin.

As he turned a corner of the path and came into the open, a big man, dressed in grey tweeds, rose from his seat on an elm block and stood before him. "Stanley, by God!" the man muttered, his face paling a trifle.

Dorkin paused, and a deep red moved to his temples. He took a quick step forward, his hands clenched in his jaw set. Simultaneously with his action the other man recoiled. Dorkin's eyes were fixed on the giant form he seemed dimly.

"You," commenced Dorkin, "You," the growl choked in his throat, and the other held up his hand.

"Don't say it," he advised. "Not that I care; but if you say it you will violate the hospitality of this," he waved his hand about, "and I understand that would be an unpardonable thing to do, up here."

"Timberley, why are you here?" asked Dorkin, striving to keep his voice steady.

The other laughed shortly. "Suppose I say that it makes this visit. I have been actuated solely through a feeling of friendship?"

Letter "E" Most Fortunate

Reasons Why We Could Not Do Without It.

Someone has advanced the opinion that the letter "E" is the most unfortunate character in the English alphabet, because it is always out of cash, forever in debt, never out of danger, and in hot all the time. But we call attention to the fact that "E" is never in need, and always in peace. It is the beginning of existence, the commencement of ease, and the end of trouble. Without it there would be no meat, no life, no heaven.

In reference to the foregoing, a Calgarian remarks that "E" completed a helpline for me, for it was the beginning and end of my life. It starts love's engagements and completes their marriage. It is the most fortunate, for it always comes in late and it always in time. It will make butter, better and put finish to the taste, and after all it's good, and is doing, it is just the beginning of the end.

DOUBLE BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR

"Danderine" creates mass of thick, gleamy waves

In a few moments you can transform your plain, dull, flat hair. You can have it abundant, soft, glossy and full of life. Just get at any drug or toilet counter a small bottle of "Danderine" for a few cents. Then simply use a soft cloth with the "Danderine" and draw it through the hair, using one small strand at a time. Instantly, yes, immediately, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will be a mass, soft, lustrous and easy to do up. All dust, dirt and excessive oil is removed.

Let Danderine put more life, color, vigor, and brightness in your hair. This stimulating tonic will freshen your scalp, clear the pores and falling hair and help your hair to grow long, thick, strong and beautiful."

Report of Movement Of 1919 Crops

Largest Part of Grain Moved by Lake Route.

In a report issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics, on the movement of last season's crop, it is shown that only 253,507 bushels went straight through to the east by rail, either destined for points in eastern Canada or to the eastern part of the United States. As is always the case, the largest shipment out of the west went by way of the terminals, Fort William and Port Arthur. During the crop year 1917, 97,467,240 bushels passed into the public and private elevators at these two ports of shipment.

Two main streams of wheat are shown as going into the United States. Of these 2,797,037 bushels went by way of Buffalo, and 1,167,959 bushels into the public and private elevators at these two ports of shipment. The 1,167,959 bushels moved by rail from the eastern port, while 184,109 bushels were cleared for consumption in the United States and 3,964,996 bushels from the ship-ments to lake ports including Duluth.

No attempt is made to show out what this wheat moved out of the United States, but the movement was entirely from Atlantic ports. So far as exports are concerned, says the report, it is correct to conclude that this wheat was exported into other countries by way of United States ports.

Canada's Coal Output

Estimates of Year's Production Are Disappointing.

According to latest reports coal production is not nearly up to expectations in Canada. The total production for the last calendar year of the Dominion was 13,500,000 tons below the maximum output of the Canadian mines, which was reached in 1913, figures that year being 15,012,178 tons.

The falling off in production is stated to be greater in Nova Scotia than in any other province in the Dominion. In 1913 Nova Scotia produced 8,000,000 tons, while in 1919 she produced only 5,700,000 tons.

Flyers Develop Far-Seeing Look

Hundred-Mile-an-Hour Face Never Looks Wary.

The "100-mile-an-hour face" has arrived. People who meet passengers by the air ferry at Paris say that these aerial voyagers breathe deeply, with wide-open eyes, as they set foot again on familiar earth. There is a sparkle in their expressions. Any trace of boredom or cynicism appears swept from their faces by the purity of the upper air.

When they take the auto which carries them to their hotel they have a look of rapturous impatience at the crawling vehicle. "Crossed the channel in ten minutes," they say, "and it's taking us more than that to get to the end of this street!"

The 100-mile-an-hour face doesn't wear an expression of weariness with lines suggestive of mental strain. On the contrary the expression is one of steadfast composure, with the quiet far-seeing face of the man who sweeps wide vistas.

Seamen have such an expression, but air observers say that flyers are likely to develop it to the ninth degree.

Just a minute, please!

HERE'S a timely suggestion for your vacation kit.

Put in an Ingersoll Maple Leaf with a Radiolite dial—the face that lights up in the dark. The cost will be $4.00, and for that you'll have a handy, handy, husky watch, built to keep going wherever you're going; to stand any rough stuff you can stand, to give you faithful record of the time of day and time of night.

Thus you can give your expensive watch a vacation in a very comfortable strong box. Knowing that the Maple Leaf will tell just as good time and bear hardships much more cheerfully.

Then if you lose the Maple Leaf Radiolite—you should worry, when you realize you've lost $4.00. Suppose it had been your high priced watch! And there isn't any town too small to supply you with a new Maple Leaf.

Your Finances

The Man who Saves

At age 19 his bills exceed his income.

At age 21 his Canada Life Policy creates a gap between income and expenditure.

At age 35 his "bills" include a "premium due" which checks extravagance.

At age 50 he can "afford" anything in reason.

At age 60 he has no anxiety for the future, and leisure for his many interests.

A man who sets aside only $200 each six months and allows it to compound at 5½% interest will have at the end of thirty years a total fund of—

Thirty Thousand Dollars

You know many people who could set aside $200 each six months. But—

Many a man who has had time to accumulate this moderate fortune, is still "drudging along" without it. For this reason:

Very few men will systematically "put by" a certain definite sum, and leave it untouched for any reasonable length of time. Human nature is seldom built that way.

The Canada Life Plan

Our insurance policies will provide any sum you name, to be delivered to you in cash at any age you desire, or to your Beneficiary should you die in the meantime:

You can thus anticipate the years, capitalize your present health and earning power, and make certain of many years' progress now.

The Endowment at 65

Issued by the Canada Life will solve the problem of your future.

It is a Certainty

The full amount of your Policy will be paid in any case, whether you live or die. Other investments may depreciate in value or fail. The Endowment is a certainty. The guarantee will take care of your home, or your business, or your personal interests, as nothing else can.

Profits Will Hasten Maturity

A special clause in this Policy provides that if the profits be allowed to remain at your credit each year instead of being withdrawn, the face of the Policy will be payable to you some years before you reach age 65.

Whatever your circumstances may be later on in life, you will welcome this fund of a few thousand dollars. You may need it then.

BASSANO

That Road to Majorville

That was a good scheme, promoted at the Council meeting on Monday, to seek permission from the C.P.R. to use the bridge over the intake to the big canal for traffic to and from Majorville.

Failing to obtain this privilege it might be advisable to work for a bridge over the canal on the road allowance running south one mile west of town, or better still insist upon the erection of a bridge by the government over the river where it intersects townships 19 and 20. This would give the farmers a straight road into Bassano and a good grade all the way.

Any or all of these improvements might be gained if we possessed the real spirit of community welfare and could manage to pull together long enough to land something.

Shortage of Fruits

The latest official report of the fruit and vegetable crops in B.C. is not very encouraging, but the report of old Ontario's crop is wonderfully bright, and should press lower prices this year.

Being governed by the B.C. market it does not seem at all likely that the price of fruit will be any lower, and we shall be fortunate if last year's prices can be maintained.

Apples will only approximate 80% of last year's crop; pears about the same as 1919; plums and peaches about 75% of 1919, and peaches will also fall short.

Potatoes show a decrease in Alberta and Saskatchewan and a very slight increase in B.C. It is not expected that prices will fall very much lower than last year for this commodity even though the east shows a larger yield.

New Train Service for Empress Line

We understand that on the 3rd of October a new train service will come into effect.

Train No. 516 from Calgary, Tue., Thurs. and Saturday, arriving 5:15 p.m. leaving 5:40 p.m. for Empress.

There will also be a change in the times of No's 3 and 4 and the Trans-Canada will come off for the winter.

The Puritan Seed

The Foundation in Which United States Owns Its Greatness

As A Nation

America, as Americans are often eager to remind us, is a very mixed nation, an amalgam of many races, peoples and cultures. Yet through it all the New England spirit, the New England outlook on life, is predominant. If it has sometimes been overshadowed in the south, it has prevailed in the west and the middle-west. It was the "Yankee" who two hundred years after the landing on Plymouth Rock, set out on new pilgrimages beyond the Ohio and the Mississippi, who ploughed the desert and the prairie with his wagon-trails and brought the railway to the Pacific. Composite as the nation has become, its texture is all interwoven with the thought and the ideals of the energetic bands of settlers who were quietly building up civilized free communities on the North Atlantic coast in the seventeenth century. It is as the seed sown by the Puritan exiles from which the bounteous harvest has grown. Surely never did months work spring from such small beginnings!—Daily Telegraph.

True to Tradition

Upholding High Standard Set by the Mounted Police in The Past

The provincial police are upholding the high standard set in the past by the old "Mounties," and while both they and the mounted police men, Corporal Under, underestimated the train-bandits, whom they were attempting to arrest, no criticism can be possible of the manner in which the attempt was made.

A U. S. Marshal would have shot first and ordered hands up after his man was got, but such is not and never has been the Canadian practice, and while occasionally valuable lives have been lost by sticking very staunchly to legal methods, it is very unlikely that either the R.C.M. Police or the A.P. Police will ever resort to American methods, at least until the criminals are known as these Australians are now known to be gun men and desperadoes.—Calgary Herald.

Pulp and Paper-Making Plant Will Probably be Established

At Prince George

Announcement is made by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, head of the timber department of British Columbia, that a pulp and paper-making plant will probably be established at Prince George.

Immense stands of spruce and balsam near that city have been investigated this summer by representatives of eastern concerns who may erect a large plant.

As a result of the shortage of newsprint and the resultant increase in price, the pulp and paper industry is receiving a great impetus. The enormous stretches of big timber throughout British Columbia offer a great inducement to the paper manufacturers and several plants are proposed in different parts of the province.

Could Not Sleep

Mr. Ernest Clark, Police Officer, 333 King St., Kingston, Ont., writes:

"For three years I suffered from nervousness and sleeplessness. I believe my condition was brought about by overwork. I had frequent headaches, neuralgic pains and twitching of nerves and muscles. I had indigestion, was short of breath and easily tired. I commenced a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and seven boxes of this medicine cured me of all my symptoms. I am now feeling one hundred per cent. better than I was, and have to thank Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for the good health I am now enjoying."

Buy an Irrigated Farm

From the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Irrigation makes the former independent of nature and insures good crops and occasionally, but rarely, a large yield.

Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of feeders, which insures good returns in dairy and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and crop rotation, with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation on the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is no longer an experiment, the years that it has been tried having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

This is the most important irrigation fact to be remembered.

It may seem to many people somewhat absurd for the proponents of prohibition to take such an interest in the forthcoming referendum, when it would appear from the Canadian Temperance Act, that even if the vote should win, the question at issue will be scarcely altered one iota.

According to the Act, should the referendum carry, inter-provincial traffic in liquor for beverage purposes only ceases. It will still be possible to ship liquor for medicinal purposes, and it is well known how sick a man can be when his medicine is whiskey. Such men are always sick. They take the same medicine when they are depressed or cheerful, for heartache or headache, for coughs, colds, sore heads, sore feet, corns, bunions, blisters and it has even been known to have been used as a hair restorer.

But with all of these opportunities liberally handed at the drinker, and with all the scope given him by the prescription anomaly, and with all the hindrance given the bootlegger by a pusillanimous attorney-general's department to aid the opponents of prohibition, the proponents believe they will ultimately crush the liquor traffic.

Every concession gained which will make it harder to obtain liquor they believe will strengthen men against their desire for it. But more particularly do they pin their faith to the medical profession awakening to the need of re-establishing itself on the pedestal which it has been placed by a grateful and appreciative humanity.

They believe that the day must come when the great fraternity will refuse to sell its bright light of trust and honor for $400.00 a month. The question of the suppression of the bootlegger is however the one of most serious import and yet seems to be scarcely considered by the government. When it is possible for men to obtain liquor in a public bar during the whole of one day, with representatives of the A.P.P. on the spot arresting men who become drunk through the liberal quantities they were able to obtain, and yet the vendors of such poison have been allowed to get off scot-free, it is hardly surprising that boot-legging flourishes.

What a ghastly face it all is. As far as we can judge by appearances the whole question on the part of both Provincial and Dominion governments has been a mere quibbling with terms.

We have exchanged a bartender for a bootlegger and a saloon for a drug store. While the drunks are still with us. This seems to be the sum total of four years of "prohibition."

In other words we have cleaned but the outside of the cup while the inside is corroded with even greater filth and corruption than ever.

It has one of the features of the Bassano Municipal Hospital since its opening last year that, aside for the periodical visits of the Women's Institute members, no others but relatives and immediate friends of patients, ever call at the Hospital.

This is a somewhat damning indictment of our ministers for surely it should be one of their first duties to comfort the sick and distressed by the ministrations of their sacred office.

How great this neglect may affect the responsiveness of the ministers' congregations can be better imagined than expressed, but it may be the answer to the question "Why are our churches empty?"

It would seem very fitting for the ladies in Bassano to form a Hospital Ladies' Aid. There is much that could be done by such an organization to help their sisters in their time of distress and need. As an adjunct to the Institute we would suggest to be the best method of accomplishing the greatest good.

While the Family Sits Around

On quiet evenings or afternoons, put on your favorite records. Play any selection you wish. Be sure to play some of mother's favorite old-time songs and one or two of dad's familiar ballads—play them all on your Columbia Gramofone.

You will get reproductions of exactly what the artists themselves produced on the original wax. Every note, every tone is distinct. The Columbia tone leaves give you complete and accurate control over tone volume without sacrificing tone quality or any of the beauty of your choicest records.

Then there's the Non Set Automatic Stop—no other phonograph has it built right into the motor. Invisible. Nothing to move or set or measure. Just start your Gramofone, and it plays and stops itself.

Ask us to play these Columbia Records for you:

Wedding Bells Again

The marriage of Ethel Phoebe to Arthur Hale Seal was celebrated very quietly on Monday, September 23rd, at the home of the bride in Glasgow.

The bride, who was attended by Mrs. E. P. Currie, was given away by her father, and the groom was supported by E. P. Currie.

Following the ceremony a very delicious breakfast was served, after which the happy couple were escorted to the honeymoon quarters where they embarked for Vancouver.

This marriage has been the source of great interest locally as both Mr. and Mrs. Seal are well-known and universally popular.

Ship Your Grain

Information has been received by the Department of Agriculture
from the Canadian Pacific Railway that this company has a large surplus of cars awaiting loading and in view of the heavy crop of grain to be shipped, there is a prospect of a very large tonnage in the season.

The Department would therefore urge farmers and grain buyers to ship a much grain as possible to the head of the lake during the present month. In doing this, the Department is not in any way advising people to sell their grain at the present time as this is a matter which each man must decide for himself.

Deputy Minister.

Women's New Status

Enfranchisement by the legislature of Tennessee of the negroes to the constitution of the United States extending equal suffrage to women was noteworthy in that it made the 36th State to approve of the amendment, and consequently made possible the promulgation of the new constitution of change as binding upon the whole nation. As a result between 15,000,000 and 20,000,000 women will be added to the list of qualified voters in the presidential elections next November. In other words, there will be in the neighborhood of 40,000,000 eligible voters in the United States, a number unequalled in any other country.

What effect this large enfranchisement of new voters will have on the fortunes of the Republican and Democratic parties it is difficult to say. The probability is that in this first election the women will, as a general rule, vote the same ticket as their men folk, but as the years go by and women develop an aptitude for public affairs and a distinct political consciousness, it is altogether likely that marked changes will be effected in party policies and methods.

The innovation will be for the good of the country and the world, because, naturally, the woes of the people of other parts of the world will appeal more strongly to women than they appear to have done to the big financial and commercial interests of the United States dominated by men judged by the treatment accorded the peace treaty and the League of Nations. There will probably be less selfishness and more humanitarian feelings in American politics of the future.

The enfranchisement of millions of women will also, in all probability, have the effect of definitely settling the much vexed question of prohibition and assure the retention of prohibition of the liquor traffic as a permanent policy of the United States.

In the extension of full citizenship rights to women, Canada led the United States, first the provinces and then the Dominion taking this advanced and enlightened action. In this country, too, this undoubtedly means the deathblow of the liquor traffic. In other respects the effect of the entry of women into politics is distinctly noticeable. Greater attention is being paid by governments to the problems of health and along many lines making for human betterment in moral and social conditions, and, in particular, in the direction of legislation establishing and protecting the rights of women, working girls and children generally.

So, too, the presence of women in the legislatures of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, and almost certainly in the next Dominion parliament, as well as upon municipal councils and school boards, is bringing new energy to the consideration of public matters of far-reaching importance. To an increasing extent in the future, business in the government and the practical side of administration will be softened by attention being devoted to more sentimental and aesthetic considerations.

As a consequence of the participation of women in public affairs there must come, as there has come from their general entry into business, a greater self-reliance on the part of the women themselves. They will need it, because, as they increasingly engage in occupations formerly regarded as the exclusive province of the men, it is inevitable that the old deference paid by men to women will become less in evidence. This tendency, especially in the case of the noticeable in small matter, as, for instance, the growing reluctance of men to give up their seats to women in crowded cars or other places of assembly, or to giving them precedence in a crowd. Women will miss these little old-time courtesies, and it is a pity that they should pass, already under a guarantee to be entirely free from equities or other injuries. Concerning them, Mrs. Thomas A. Bont, Lake Baker, B.C., writes: "I am pleased to state that my baby's Own Tablets were of great help to me when my baby was suffering from constipation." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mineral Wealth of Quebec

Discoveries in North Country Are Resounding, Riches

H. L. F. Blake, representing several English syndicates, who has been exploring Chibougamau and Northern Quebec with a party arrived recently in Montreal on his way down the North Shore to make further exploration in Uggav. Mr. Blake reports that the mineral discoveries in the north are becoming richer and richer on each occasion he visits the interior of the country, and predicts that the day is not far distant when the large steel interests will look to Northern Quebec for their raw material. The enormous water powers will supplement coal in the production of iron and steel and will make Quebec one of the richest parts of the Dominion, if not of all America, from the mineral point of view.

Thousands Found Positions
Since the beginning of the year the Alberta government employment bureaux have placed over 20,000 men and women in positions. Last month, out of 6,141 applications from men and 1,796 from women they were successful in placing 5,480 men and 1,635 women.

CONSTIPATED CHILDREN

Children who suffer from constipation, indigestion or any of the other ailments due to a clogged condition of the bowels will find prompt relief from the use of Baby's Own Tablets. They are absolutely safe and are sold under a guarantee to be entirely free from equities or other injuries. Concerning them, Mrs. Thomas A. PURITY - QUALITY - ECONOMY

With the increased cost of labor and materials due to war conditions, it is not reasonable to suppose that a really first class baking powder can be made and sold at the old prices. Rather than sacrifice the quality of

we found it necessary to make slight increases in price during the war period. Even though Magic Baking Powder may cost a few cents more than the ordinary kinds it is still by far the most economical baking powder on the market to-day when purity, strength and leavening qualities are taken into consideration.

Faith Cures

Sensitiveness of the Mind A Determining Factor in Respect To Health

There is nothing new in the cures reported through the medium of the "bleeding sacred statues" at Templemore, Ireland. St. Anne De Beausé, Quebec, is a shrine at which thousands are said to be cured every year. These are faith cures, and for certain ailments, such cures are rather strange not unusual. Reversely, a perfectly well man may be made to feel ill by being told that he looks ill and must be ill. The sensitiveness of the mind is often a determining factor in respect to sickness and health. But the only sure way of curing disease is to consult a competent doctor and to follow his advice and the word "doctor" does not necessarily mean the medical profession only.—Calgary Herald.

Fine Buildings for Fine Farms

YOU have modern machinery, modern equipment, a real up-to-date modern farm—BUT—how about your buildings? Are they as modern as your equipment? Do you house that expensive machinery—or leave it to the mercy of rains, sun, wind and rust? How about your stock? Do you take a chance and house them in unsanitary, dark, damp barns that decrease their efficiency and production? How about your good wife and yourself? Are you any less important than any or all of these?

Fine Buildings Make Fine Farms

This time was never more opportune to realize the long-sought improvement—new buildings, additional space—A NEW HOME. Now on the threshold of a big crop with wheat at a high price, with the money on the participation certificate coming in—there was never better set when the hard-earned hard-earned profits of a real home are within your grasp. Don't let this opportunity slip by its own and its own. Don't let this opportunity slip by its own and its own. Don't let this opportunity slip by its own and its own.

Good Roads Are Of Inestimable Value To The Rural Districts

The highways of a country are one of its nation's most important assets and play a large part in colonization and land settlement. The construction of good, serviceable highways is next to the building of railroads, probably the chief factor in increasing the price of land, while adequate marketing facilities, in the way of good roads, is an inevitable part of agricultural progress and prosperity.

A high grade of public thoroughfare, with a progressive and wide-scope policy of maintenance and extension, has a decided bearing on immigration, and the lack of these facilities, in the eyes of intending farming settlers, seriously detracts from the aggregation many inducements. Again, it must be remembered that Canada's tourist traffic is an important and extensive feature of national wealth, and constitutes the fourth principal source of the country's revenue. As a great part of this tourism is done by automobile, and this mode of travelling is increasing yearly, it is readily seen that the provision of good trunk roads is necessary in order to keep up the traffic and further encourage it.

That Canada is alive to the necessity and advisability of maintaining substantial roads and carrying out annually a program of extension, is evinced by the series of Federal and Provincial road bills, the expenditure on Canadian highways for the last five years has amounted to $60,000,000, and the program at present being carried out will result in the disbursement of $73,000,000.

Besides the active local road-building, county, municipal or provincial highway association exist for the cooperation of these smaller bodies within the province and the furtherance of the provincial program. Annually, an interprovincial convention is held at some central point, and is attended by the various ministers of public works, highways, communications, road-building experts from both sides of the line, where papers are read on all phases of road construction, ideas are exchanged, policies are devised and progressive projects advocated.

Just how important Canadian highways are to the people of the Dominion may be judged from the fact that they already aggregate 35,000 miles, and the land appropriated for their construction, together with the improvements carried thereon, amount in value to no less than $750,000,000. It has been estimated that for every mile the travelling public journeys on the railroads, it travels two miles on the highways. Canada's mileage averages one mile for every 12, whereas in the United States it is one mile for every 55.

The absolute necessity of good hard roads, so that the farmers may easily reach their markets, is the biggest reason in the building of Canadian roads, and the co-operation of farmers is enlisted by the local boards of road improvement, the payment of the taxes. The maintenance of easily travelled motor roads is another important consideration which is also followed by the progressive program. All principal centres of the Dominion are linked up by modern roads and a coast-to-coast motor way has been advocated for some time; by one by the gates are being bridged, and it will undoubtedly shortly come into existence.

The Death Toll of Speed

Problem Demanding Grave Study by National Lawmakers

Some startling figures have been presented to the National Safety Council of the United States, which is holding its annual session at Atlantic City. They deal with the rapidly increasing toll of human life taken according to the price of the modern speeded car. "The motor menace," as he calls it, has become a problem demanding grave study by national and state lawmakers, and by all organizations having to do with the public welfare.

Official statistics for the current year, according to the report of the Executive of the Safety Council show that "three times as many people are killed by automobiles as are killed in all the factories, mines, railroads and other industries in America." During the last four months one person was killed by automobile in the United States every thirty-five minutes. In that time the deaths from this cause were over twenty-five percent greater in number than in the same period of the previous year.

The report adds, for the purpose of comparison, a British official statement to the effect that in the development of the aeroplane. It shows that over 75,000 persons were carried upon aerial journeys in Great Britain last year with but one fatality.

According to the estimates prepared for the council the terrible toll taken from automobiles should be almost entirely reckoned against the cause for speed. Ninety-seven percent of the fatalities are ascribed to these two causes. But because the killings have increased in an even greater proportion than have the number of automobiles in use, the government has been advised to give immediate consideration by the automobile makers of the country "unless they expect soon to be confronted by a great volume of hostile public opinion."

It must be clear that such a staggering death rate cannot continue without causing a serious problem. Legislation can be tightened and strengthened, but legislation cannot do everything. The greatest cause of the development of a strong and effective sentiment among owners of automobiles is the driver's attitude. The reckless driver and the speed fiend.—Toronto Globe.

The Returned Soldier On The Farm

Work Accomplished by Calgary Branch of Soldier Settlement

Two thousand returned soldier farmers, occupying 660,000 acres of land in Southern Alberta, have been placed by the Calgary branch of the Soldier Settlement Board. The superintendent of the board, The sum of $1,286,000 has been loaned to the settlers, for the purchase of land, stock and equipment, $4,060,000 having been paid out in 1919, when the demobilization and re-establishment of returned soldiers was at its height, and the sum of $3,290,000 was paid out in 1920.

Out to Save—A north of Ireland man went into a post-office and handed over a telegram addressed to a remote part of Ireland.

The post-office clerk informed him that the charge would be one shilling and sixpence.

"How do you make that out?"

"Ninety-four for the wire, and a shilling for postage and delivery outside the radius."

"That's long!" retorted the hard-headed Northerner. "You send the telegram, and I'll write and ask him to fetch it!"

Wisdom is to put your trust in Providence, but it's unwise to go around believing for others for Providence to pull you out of.

Tip-Burn Disease On Potato Plants

Growers Often Mistake Trouble For Late Blight

A trouble which is widely distributed and very prevalent in some sections of the province, the "tip burn" has been given, it is to be found on our potato crops. This trouble takes the form of a gradual burning, and drying-up of the leaves of the plants, often commencing at a comparatively early stage in their growth and, in many cases, if allowed to go on unchecked, slowly but surely involving the whole of the plants so that they die down a considerable time before the tubers are developed.

The appearance of this trouble in the fields, often mistaken by growers for late blight. There is, however, a marked distinction between the two, for late blight may commence by attacking any part of the plant, leaves and stems alike, as a dark, water-soaked appearance, and in its early stages is damp to the touch, while tip burn invariably commences at the margin or tips of the leaves and has a decidedly dry appearance and touch with the exception of slight areas. It also appears much earlier in the season than late blight has ever been known to occur, and does not cause the death of the plant as late blight. Nor has it ever been proven so destructive as late blight, although evidence has been obtained that in some cases it is more and more effort is made to check it, a considerable reduction in the yield of marketable tubers, due to the premature death of the plants from this cause, may result.

Investigators of this trouble are not yet in agreement as to the cause. Some believe that the disease is due to the belief that a period of hot, dry weather during the growing season causes the leaves to throw off moisture more rapidly than it can be furnished by the plant, the result being the appearance of tip burn. This belief seems, however, to be disproven by the fact that the trouble is not found in the hot regions of the western states, where the temperature is so high, and the disease is also especially dry.

More recent investigations lead to the belief that this burning of the leaves is due to some factor in the growth of the insect known as the potato leaf hopper. These investigations are not yet complete, but enough evidence has been produced to serve as a warning to potato growers to keep these insects well under control in an endeavor to avoid tip burn.

We have found in our experimental work with potatoes that Bordeaux mixture will, in large measure, control this trouble. In 1918, when it was extremely prevalent, we had several plots to which, for the purpose of experiment, Bordeaux mixture was applied. These plots suffered from a severe attack of tip burn and the plants were all killed down by the second week in August, while other plots on the same land, and to which, for the control of late blight, Bordeaux mixture was regularly applied, suffered to a very slight extent only, the plants remaining green until frost came. Bordeaux mixture acts as a repellent to the leaf hopper, as well as a protection to the plants. Many other cases in addition to that referred to have come to our notice bearing evidence that regular and thorough spraying with this mixture will reduce to a minimum the ravages of tip burn.

Five Million War Prisoners

Scientific Methods In Farming Will Tend To Eliminate the Risks

Unlike the old lady who lived in the shoe the University of Saskatchewan has not so many children as it does not know what to do with them—every one. The child attending the rural school, the growing lad, the eager young man bent on a profession, the mother, the father all in one way or another, are nourished by that good mother of the province, the University at Saskatoon.

Realizing that, comparatively speaking only a few of her children can actually attend her institution, the university does everything possible to cater to the needs of those who cannot, for one reason or another, undertake a college course; and just as in other years, when there were no schools, intellectual culture spread from the monasteries, so in this day and generation the University endeavours to distribute its spiritual bounty as liberally and as widely as possible.

It is with this ideal in view—that the benefits of the university should be freely shared and its usefulness increased—that there functions what is known as the Extension Department, the distributing agency, as it were, of the splendid agricultural college which has been organized during the last decade at Saskatoon, an agricultural college now ranking among the foremost on the North American continent.

The scope of the activities of the Extension Department may be gathered from a glance at some of its undertakings. These include: agricultural exhibitions, showing material, the distributing agency, as it were, of the splendid agricultural college which has been organized during the last decade at Saskatoon, an agricultural college now ranking among the foremost on the North American continent.

in 1919. This number can easily be placed at 10,000 for the current year. This, of course, in addition to the direct teaching of the stock and staffed by the University, which reaches many thousands in the province.

It is the hope of the extension department that by its activities it assists the farmer to minimize the chances that in the past have made agriculture in the West practically a gamble. The belief is held—and its validity has been proved—that with the application of scientific methods the risks can, in a large number of cases, be considerably reduced. The extension department aims also to do away with the dangers that must inevitably attend a continuance of haphazard methods and ignorance of improved ones.

One of the most promising phases of the department's work is that undertaken for young people—the men and women of tomorrow, many of whom will certainly find their way in due course to the university itself. The Boys' and Girls' Club, formerly known as the University Extension Department, is now directed by the department of education, but in this year (under the former auspices) the Boys' Camp were held, at Regina and Saskatoon, respectively.

Some 245 lads attended the former, and about 175 attended the latter. These were outstandingly successful, and the experiment will be repeated and this phase of the work extended.

The Boys' Camp have been followed up by what is known as the "Follow-Up" programme, whereby boys and girls are given the chance of having purebred stock through the university. The condition is made that the young people undertake to provide for the maintenance and care of the stock, poultry or the grain supplied.

It does not require much imagination to see how well such a plan augurs for the future. A lad who has been keen on the best stock in youth will scarcely tolerate a second-class animal when he starts in farm in earnest for himself.

It should be said that the moral and physical development of the children is not overlooked in the clubs and camps. The co-operation of the Y.M.C.A. in this respect is highly valued and effective.

Perhaps the work among young people, giving them a bias in the direction of good farming, has been the most hopeful phase of the university extension department's manifold activities.

New Use for Germs

Prediction that Next War Would Be One of Degrading Germs

From Airplanes

In an address before a select group of prominent British scientists and officials, Mr. Charles H. Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., made the prediction that the next war would be one of bacteria dropped from aeroplanes over enemy cities. Gruesome as the prophecy may appear to the casual reader there is nothing extravagant in the suggestion. The recent conflict disclosed the extent to which the wide range of scientific accomplishments was employed in contravention to the cruelties of shooting masses of iron and steel at objects many miles distant. The Germans first resorted to poison gas; the poisoning of wells was another variation of their diabolical type of warfare, equally as new to the habits of old, when men measured conquest in terms of muscle and physical forces, as the employment of the visible or invisible weapons of the modern age. Happily, however, the hope of civilization is not dead. When the debris of world domination, clumsy and secret diplomacy, and the twisted conception of international honor has been swept away, a reconstructed world may recur to the use of the what the League of Nations has been designed to do until its present malady has been cured.—Victoria Times.

No Respecter of Persons

A Scotch politician in London was keeping the crowd away in front of the houses of parliament. A stout, excited woman endeavored to pass but he restrained her.

"I'm the wife of a cabinet minister," she insisted. "You must let me pass."

The Scot eyed her unimpressed.

"Madam, ye couldna pass if ye were the wife of a Presbyterian minister."

Want Higher Charge For Storing Grain

Port William and Port Arthur Terminal Owners Would Raise Charges

As the result of the tariff charges for elevating and storing straight grain were asked on behalf of the Port William and Port Arthur terminal elevators by J. C. Gage, in an application made to the Board of Grain Commissioners for Canada. He asked that the present one cent per bushel for elevating and storing grain be raised to one and a half cents per bushel. Reasons given were the increased cost of operation over other ports.

Mr. W. Riddle, Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator company, supported the application and asked that the period of free storage be decreased from 15 to 10 days. Mr. Gage also applied for an increase in the rate for storing mixed grains and screenings. The increase asked for is from two to three cents for mixed grain and three to four cents for screenings.

Worse Than a Czar

Destruction and Death in the Wake of the Rule of Lenin

Lenin has been called an "inverted Czar." But this is too mild. No Czar ever inflicted such misery upon so many millions of people as has the fanatic and remorseless Lenin. The official reports of his own fronts show how destruction and death have followed in the wake of his theories. There is no real government in Russia; only a ruthless dictatorship. No laws are passed; only arbitrary decrees are issued. The courts do not exist; merely the ferocious revolutionary tribunals called to order by the Czar and execute. Talk of the worst of the Czar! He chastised with whips; Lenin flays with chains.—New York Times.

Discovery of Salts

A discovery, the value of which is not known, but is being investigated, has been made at a point seventeen miles north of Viceroy, Saskatchewan by a party of gentlemen visiting the district, of a deposit of crystalline salts. The area which is covered by the deposit is estimated to be about 200 acres. The greater portion of it is covered by about six inches of soil, and though a hole was drilled to a depth of three feet the bottom of the deposit was not reached. The salts will be analyzed to ascertain the commercial value.

Making Life on The Farm Appealing

Good Roads and Cheap Automobiles Should Play a Good Part

Since the war problem which has been worrying agriculturists all over the world, the farmer has been the victim of the girl and the girl on the farm. All the literature that I have seen on the subject shows quite plainly that the farmer has been discovered to meet the difficulty in connection with the exodus of the boys and girls from the farms. It follows that the farmer will all agree that we can at least go a long way towards solving the problem by adopting better methods by which the home can be made more attractive; by keeping better livestock; by making more profit on the farm, which will make possible more money for the boys and girls; and generally by doing everything we can to make life on the farm appealing. In addition to this I think that good roads and cheap automobiles should play a great part in helping to keep the young people on the farms by rendering very valuable assistance to the farmer in different ways in connection with his work and by enabling him and his family to move around and mix with the neighbors and generally by doing everything we can to make life on the farm appealing. Mennonites Obeying Law

Figures for School Attendance Are Higher Than Last Year

According to Premier Martin the figures for school attendance in the Department of Education regarding the situation in the Mennonite settlement near Swift Current, show a considerable increase in the figures for school attendance are much higher than last year. This is not the result of any change of heart on the part of the Mennonites, but comes from the stern measures adopted by the government to compel the Mennonites to obey the education laws. The Premier says that no little difficulty has been experienced in enforcing these laws, as many of the settlers prefer to spend ten days in jail rather than pay the insignificant fines imposed.
